

Can your three-year-old beat the S&P 500?

Ours did.

Our first strategic beta ETFs just celebrated an anniversary: they achieved three-year track records. They're not talking or walking, but they did outperform the S&P 500® Index over three years.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. The performance data quoted represents past performance and current returns may be lower or higher. The investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than the original cost. For performance current to the most recent month-end, visit www.victoryshares.com.

Carefully consider the funds' investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses before investing. This and other important information can be found in the prospectus or the summary prospectus. To obtain a copy, visit www.victoryshares.com. Read the prospectus carefully before investing.

Investing involves risk, including the potential loss of principal.

ETF shares are bought and sold at market price (not NAV) and are not individually redeemed from the Fund. The market price used to calculate the Closing Market Price is the last trade as of the time that the Fund's NAV is calculated. If you trade your shares at another time, your return may differ. Index performance is shown for illustrative purposes only. It is not possible to invest directly in an unmanaged index. The Adviser has contractually agreed to waive a portion of its management fee and/or reimburse certain expenses through at least October 31, 2017.
